DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

2. Claims 1-2, 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim et al (US 20030012558 A1) in view of Tanaha (US 20010029500 A1).

Regarding claims 1 and 7, Kim discloses a recording and/or reproducing apparatus (Fig. 1) which reproduces audio and/or video (AV) data read from a storage medium in an interactive mode (sections 0048 -0050), the apparatus comprising: an ENAV buffer (cache memory 3) in which is loaded an ENAV file; and an ENAV engine which interprets and reproduces the buffered ENAV file to be reproduced with the AV data in the interactive mode (sections 0009-0013, 0019-0021), wherein the ENAV engine allocates the ENAV buffer for markup data, reads the ENAV file, and loads the ENAV file in of the ENAV buffer (section 0042-0045).

Kim fails to specifically teach that the ENAN engine allocate an area as a markup area for storing the data.

Tanaka teaches a system having a control means for allocating an area of a memory as a markup area for storing data (Fig. 2, section 0032).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Kim with Tanaka by providing Kim with a control means as taught by Tanaka for allocating an area of the buffer of Kim for a markup area for storing the data therefore effectively using the buffer for storing the data.

Further for claim 7, Kim as modified with Tanaka teaches an internet service (Tanaka, section 0031, section 0032, and lines 1- 10).

. Regarding claims 2 and 8, Kim teaches the recording and/or reproducing apparatus of claim 1, further comprising:
an AV buffer (2) in which is loaded an AV file containing the AV data read from the storage medium; and an AV reproducing engine which reproduces the buffered AV file from the AV buffer (section 0045)..

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-6, 9-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Claims 16-31 are allowed.
5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to HUY T. NGUYEN whose telephone number is (571)272-7378. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:30AM -6:00PM.
